MACK-SILVERBERG WEDDING.

Fidelity Lodge Party—Woman's Relief Corps Social—Hyman Dinner.

The subject of full dress at the theaters is now agitating the minds of many of our society people. A glance at the audiences in our leading theaters on opening night reveals a peculiar condition of affairs. Less than one-half of the people, as a rule, appear in full dress, and the remainder are attired in a peculiarly happy-go-lucky style. With many of the male sex light trousers, and even light-colored suits are not regarded as out of the way for evening wear, which shows a total disregard of the ethics of dress. Why cannot our society people establish a rule among themselves of invariably appearing at the theaters on Monday nights in full evening dress? This would soon become recognized as the proper thing to do, and many others would follow in line until in due time the auditoriums would present a sight fully as attractive as the scenes presented on the stage.

THE CITY.

Society is still active in the city, as the many entertainments of the past week testify. Owing to an unforeseen press in our local news, we are obliged to omit several columns of interesting matter. The full tide of social life will not commence until the middle of September, and from that time on the votaries of fashion will have no end of gayety.

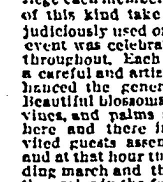
Weddings.



A FASHIONABLE wedding took place last Tuesday evening at the Concordia Club, when Miss Nellie Silverberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Silverberg, was united in marriage to J. J. Mack of the firm of J. J. Mack & Co., wholesale druggists of this city. The privilege each member enjoys of having events of this kind take place in the club was judiciously used on this occasion, and the event was celebrated most harmoniously throughout. Each apartment had received a careful and artistic decoration that enhanced the general effect considerably. Beautiful blossoms were interwoven with vines, and palms and ferns were placed here and there in quiet relief. The invited guests assembled before 7 o'clock, and at that hour the band played the wedding march and the bridal party entered the parlor in the following order: Two little children, Master Irvin Silverberg and Miss Edith Mack, came first, dressed in white costumes and carrying baskets of flowers. The bride came next, leaning upon the arm of her father. They were followed by the groom and his mother, Mrs. Mack, while S. Silverberg and Mr. Mack, father of the groom, were last.

The bride appeared in an elegant toilet of white faille Francaise, made with a sweeping court train. The entire front and sides were elaborately trimmed with Valenciennes lace, and along veil of white tulle fell from the coiffure over the dress and train. The corsage was cut high, and the sleeves, which were half of lace and half of silk, extended to the elbows, where they met the long gloves of white undressed kid. She carried a hand bouquet of La Marque roses, tied with white satin ribbons, and wore diamond ornaments.

Mrs. S. Silverberg was attired in a rich toilet of black velvet, en train, trimmed with cut steel; ornaments, diamonds.

Mrs. Mack wore a combination costume of black and lavender silk, en train; ornaments, diamonds.

The bride and groom took their positions beneath a beautiful bridal bower and the impressive ceremony was performed by the Rev. Elkan Cohn. The congratulations of those present were then extended to the newly wedded couple and in a short time the guests followed them to the billiard-room, where the wedding dinner was served. This room and the cardrooms adjoining presented a scene of much beauty. The billiard tables had been removed, and in their place were long rows of tables arranged at right angles with the bridal table, which was at the end of the room. The decorator's art had almost been exhausted in the embellishment of these tables, for beautiful flowers and triumphs of the culinary art were displayed in abundance, and rich service and sparkling crystal-ware completed the enchanting ensemble.

The bridal table was particularly handsome. In the center was a large flat mirror, bordered with crimson embroidered velvet, and at each side was a large silver fountain rising out of beds of flowers, and from each issued a perpetually flowing stream of cologne. These fountains were imported from Germany and are elegantly made, being the only ones of the kind in America. At intervals along the table, on beveled glass mirrors, were set lighted candelabra.

Amid these lovely decorations, and in an atmosphere that was redolent with perfume, the wedding dinner was eaten. The menu was an elaborate one, and the popping of champagne corks made a lively accompaniment to it. The guests, numbering about 150 in all, were occupied in this pleasant manner for a couple of hours, and then all adjourned to the ballroom on the floor above, where dancing was enjoyed until another day was ushered in.

Mr. and Mrs. Mack received an unusual number of costly presents, comprising almost everything the heart could wish for in that line. On the following day they left for the Yosemite valley and will also visit Lake Tahoe before returning to the city. In October they will make an Eastern trip.

HUNT-JACKSON.

Miss Olive C. Jackson of this city and E. F. Hunt of Chico were united in marriage on August 3d at the residence of the bride's mother. Rev. William Kincaid, pastor of the First Baptist Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. Mr. Hunt has lived in Chico for twelve years, where he holds a responsible county position. The happy couple are passing a few weeks here, but will reside in Chico.

MORGAN-WALSH.

At the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Hayward, in this city, the wedding of Miss Lizzie Walsh of Eureka and W. J. Morgan of Portland, Or., was celebrated on Friday evening, August 5th. Father Fitzsimmon officiated at the ceremony, which was performed in the presence of a few relatives and friends. If the lot of the happy couple be all that their friends wish, it will be one of much happiness and prosperity.

BARTLET-DEXTER.

A quiet home wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 313 Stockton street, the contracting parties being Miss Mary J. Dexter of this city and Charles S. M. Bartlet, Deputy Postmaster of Montezuma, Nev. The Rev. J. B. Williams officiated. Miss Carrie Dexter was bridesmaid and H. Le Baron Smith best man. The bridal tour will include San Jose, Santa Cruz and Monterey, and their future residence will for a time be in this city.

COHEN-HASSEN.

The wedding of Miss Carrie Hassen and Seelig Cohen took place on Sunday evening, the 7th inst., at the residence of the bride's parents, 856½ Harrison street, the Rev. M. S. Levy of Oakland officiating. The house was beautifully decorated with Chinese and Japanese lanterns, which, being lighted in the evening, illuminated the whole building, lending a beautiful aspect to the scene. Within the rooms were tastefully decorated with smilax, evergreens and roses, and presented a handsome appearance. The guests began to arrive early in the afternoon and the spacious parlors were soon filled with the friends of the happy couple. Promptly at 4:30 o'clock the Rev. M. S. Levy took his position under a magnificent floral marriage bell which hung in the arbor formed by the baywindow, and the wedding procession entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The bride and groom took their positions in front of the Rev. Dr. Levy, and the ceremony began. The reverend gentleman read the service in his usual solemn and impressive manner, closing with an eloquent address replete with good advice to the young couple. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a bountiful collation, to which they did ample justice. They then retired to the parlors and the evening was spent in dancing, singing, reciting and speech-making. The presents received were costly and numerous and tended to show the high position which the young couple occupied in the hearts of their friends. The guests departed at 1:30 A. M. wishing the blushing bride and happy groom much success and happiness in life. Mr. and Mrs. Cohen will spend their honeymoon at San Rafael.

On Wednesday evening a complimentary dinner was tendered to Douglas Wilson by the members of the Travelers' Club. The gentleman has held the position of honorary Secretary of the club for upward of two years and a half, and the occasion of his departure for Montreal was considered suitable to recognize the benefits his services had conferred upon the members. In spite of the shortness of the notice, every seat at the table was occupied, and the prompt attendance was in itself ample testimony to the popularity of the guest of the evening. The dinner left nothing to be desired, and at the close of the repast Senator Lynch, the President of the club, proposed the health of Douglas Wilson. In so doing he referred to the geniality and the disinterested attention which Mr. Wilson had always shown to the members and in the affairs of the club. The toast was drunk standing and replied to by the guest of the evening in a short and well-worded speech. Other speeches followed, and toasts were proposed and responded to until the assembly broke up. Vice-President Thomas Johnston sent a letter of apology, regretting his inability to attend, as did also Dr. Stallard. Some thirty gentlemen were present. Mr. Wilson left for Montreal on Friday morning, and will probably be absent at least two years.

The spacious hall was simply jammed, as standing room was at a very high premium.

No doubt this unusual audience was attracted by the principal feature in the evening's programme, the appearance of the M. P. WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS.

The ladies of James A. Garfield Corps, No. 21, Woman's Relief Corps, gave their first bonbon party at Pioneer Hall last Wednesday evening. The hall presented a beautiful appearance, being handsomely decorated with American flags, mottoes, evergreens and streamers. Over the stage hung the corps banner, and under that was the large and beautiful silk flag of Garfield Post, No. 34, Grand Army of the Republic.

About 9 o'clock the grand march, composed of 120 couples, took place. The music, which was excellent, was furnished by L. H. Bailey's string band. After the march dancing was indulged in until 11 o'clock, when refreshments of all kinds were partaken of in the spacious dining-rooms adjoining the hall. After this dancing was resumed until the small hours.

The object of this party was to raise money to increase the fund to build a home for the widows, destitute wives, orphans and army nurses of the Union soldiers who fought in the late War of the Rebellion. The home is to be located near San Jose, and the citizens of that city have already donated $2500 toward it. N. Cadwallader of San Jose has also donated six acres of fine land to the home.

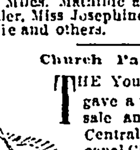
Church Parties.



THE Young Ladies' Union gave a very pleasant fan sale and social at the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, on Mission street, last Thursday evening. A large number of guests were in attendance, and the event was a great success. The parlors were very handsomely decorated for the occasion with beautiful flowers and many colored fans and banners. One of the features of the entertainment was a Japanese tea booth, at which Japanese ladies and gentlemen from the Japanese Mission, in full costume, presided. The fan booths were very handsome, and some artistic fans, made by the Young Ladies' Union, were exposed for sale. The lemonade booth was tastefully decorated, and the cooling beverage was dispensed to the guests during the evening, as was the ice-cream in the ice-cream booth.

Appended is the programme: Vocal solo, Mrs. Blake-Alverson; quartet, "What Her Fan Says," Miss Sadie Howard, Mrs. Perrant, Miss Annie Northrup, Miss Nellie Mackay; solo, Mrs. Blake-Alverson; recitation, Miss Mabel Bowman; fan drill, Miss Etta Wood, Miss Lulu Healey, Miss Eva Kingsbury, Miss Millie Frank, Miss Rosie Raisch, Miss Katie Raisch.

The young ladies deserve much commendation for their very successful entertainment, inasmuch as it was their own idea. Their dresses were marvels of the dressmakers, art, and the bright colors of their apparel contrasted pleasantly with their bright faces.

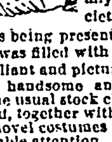
Fraternal Socials.



THE mask ball of Fidelity Lodge, Knights and Ladies of Honor, given at Scottish Hall Friday evening, attracted an unusually large number of society people, at least 500 guests being present. By 10 o'clock the floor was filled with guests, who presented a brilliant and picturesque appearance in their handsome and unique costumes. All the usual stock characters were represented, together with a number of quaint and novel costumes which attracted considerable attention. The majority of the ladies were attired in a manner which set off their charms to advantage, while it concealed their identity. There were the usual number of rollicking Irishmen, very ebony-colored negroes, nimble clowns, and plain dominoes. Devils and nuns hobnobbed in the most familiar manner, without apparently noticing the impropriety. An amorous Turk, with fierce whiskers, was particularly sought after by the ladies.

The grand march was the brilliant event of the evening, the various evolutions showing off the costumes to advantage. Dancing was continued up to 12 o'clock, when the guests unmasked. After a short intermission the dancing was resumed and continued until a late hour. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the evening, the affair being a perfect success in every particular.

The following were the committees: Floor Manager, S. Strouse; Floor Committee—J. Kramer and W. Turner; Reception Committee—H. W. Getchell, George Koenig, Mrs. P. Holzheiser, Mrs. M. E. Duncan and Miss G. Johnson.

OUT OF TOWN.

A young lady in one of our southern cities writes to us for information regarding an afternoon tea and the manner in which it is conducted. This form of entertainment can be commenced at any time between 1 and 5 o'clock, and, as a rule, ladies only are invited, except at the 5 o'clock teas. It is proper to exclude daylight and use gas as the illumination, and the rooms may be decorated to suit the taste of the hostess. Conversation is generally the feature of the afternoon, although a vocal or instrumental selection occasionally is an agreeable diversion. Light refreshments, such as tea, chocolate, ice-cream, water ices and cakes should be served at will throughout the entire afternoon from a buffet. Young lady friends of the hostess, attired in light-tinted toilets, are usually selected to dispense the hospitality of the house. This is a bare outline of an afternoon tea, and may be enlarged upon as the entertainer sees fit.
